

F-2014-00036 - Researchers employed by the HFEA split by gender

10 February 2014

Summary of request

The Authority was asked for the number of male and female researchers and women in top managerial positions employed by the HFEA.

HFEA response

The HFEA is the regulator in the UK for the fertility sector. As such the HFEA does not conduct any research or employ any researchers. The HFEA does grant licences for research projects but the actual research takes place in those bodies applying for the licence.

You also asked for the number of managerial positions held by women in departments involved in teaching and research. Since the HFEA conducts no teaching or research, this request is not applicable.